The Grand Lodge burst into a roar of laughter, followed by prolonged applauss.

Telegrams were received from the Grand Lodge of Iowa extending fraternal greatings. Lieut, Gov. Jones of Otsege Lodge, Blinghamton, was introduced to the Grand Lodge and was received with applause. A recess was taken until 9 o'clock this morning.

The usual banquet of the Masonic Veterans was held in the evening. It was announced that Past Grand Master Joseph E. Simmons, President of the Board of Education, and until lately President of the New York Stock Exchange, would sail for Europe with his family on Saturday. He expects to discuss the question of jurisdiction between the Grand Lodge of Quebec and the Grand Lodge of England with the Prince of Wales, the Grand Master, and many believe that by a personal presentation of the facts a better understanding of the case will be reached. so whom was voted an addition of $700 to his

WAS STANGER POISONED?

Dr. Goein Says he Died After Taking a Too Large Dose of Chloral and Morphine.

Dr. Wolfgang Goetz was at Creedmoor with the Eleventh Regiment, of which he is surgeon, when Charles Stanger, saloon keeper at 74 East Third street, required his services on Saturday, and Dr. Hassloch of 220 East Forty-ninth street was summoned in his stead. When Dr. Goetz returned from Creedmoor and went to see the patient, Stanger was dead. Deputy Coroner Jenkins made out a death certificate in accordance with information retificate in accordance with information received from Dr. Hassloch, that Stanger had died of a complication of disorders, of which kidney disease was almost the least serious, and Stanger was buried on Tuesday.

Dr. Goetz called on Dr. Nagle of the Health Department yesterday and said that he had learned from Mr. King, the druggist who prepared the prescription, that Dr. Hassloch had prescribed a mixture of chloral and morphine to Stanger in two large doses, and that it had probably poisoned him. He tried in consequence to have the funeral delayed on Tuesday, Dr. Goetz said, so that an autopsy could be made, but Coroner Levy was in such a hurry to go to a Masonic meeting that he would not attend to it. Dr. Goetz wanted Dr. Nagle to assist him in proving Dr. Hassloch guilty of malpractice, but the doctor referred him back to Coroner Levy.

Deputy Coroner Jenkins came in soon after Dr. Goetz's charge against Dr. Hassloch is attributed to professional jealousy. It is also said that a benevolent society, of which he is a member, and to which Stranger belonged, won't pay any insurance to Stanger's family, if it can be proved that he did not die from natural causes, ceived from Dr. Hassloch, that Stanger had comparatively novel method, at least in important criminal cases, has been adopted by Henry W. Jachne's counsel to expedite the hearing of his case, or appeal, by the Court of Appeals. If the ordinary course were pursued, the appeal to the General Term of the Supreme Court from Jachne's conviction, before Judge Barrett in the Court of Oyer and Terminer. could not be heard until October. Yestorday. however, Lawyer Newcombe consented to an affirmance of the conviction, pro forms, by the General Torm of the Supreme Court, and an order to that effect was entered by District Attorney Martine. This leaves the way clear to an immediate recourse to the Court of Appeals. Oriminal cases have a preference on the calendar of the Court of Appeals, and the probability is that Jachne's appeal will be heard by the full Bench sitting in Saratoga in July.

"I have decided," said District Attorney Martine yesterday, "to force some of the indicted Aldermen of 1884 to trial about the middle of this month. I do not feel at liberty to say whom I will try first, because, at the last momeat after the announcement had been made, I might feel that the public interests demanded a change of programme. At all events I will move the trial of at least one of the Aldermen of 1884, in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, a week from Monday next, and shall strenuously urge that a day be fixed peremptorily. I have proceeded slowly and cautiously in these trials, because I fully realize that affirmance of the conviction, pro forms, by the in these trials, because I fully realize that there is a great deal at stake."

The Board of Education yesterday voted to close all the offices of the Board at noon on Saturdays throughout July, August, and September. A report of the committee recommending that L. C. Buckley, a prohibits corporal punishment in the public achools, was adopted. It was decided that the proposition to use the pulliding of the Gollege of the Giber of the Evening The York for the sessions of the Evening light School could not be entertained, as the essay alterations in the building would not only be very expensive but would make it unfit for the uses of the College. The Board appropriated $2,333 to fit up the premises at 293 and 295 West 125th street for the occupancy of Primary School 23.

A MEAN THIRF AND A POOR LAW. Recorder Smyth Expresses his Opinion Both in the General Sessions.

Andrew D. Tompkins, a pensioned veteran of the war, boarded with Mrs. Annie B. Brage of 103 East Eleventh street in the spring of 1885. He was sickly, and Mrs. Bragg nursed him. I have had a wide experience officially with thieves," said Recorder Smyth, "but I regard you. Tompkins, as about the bassest and meanest thief ever before me. I have given you an opportunity to make some restitution, but you have not made it. Therefore you are entitled to no mercy whatever. Unfortunately some misguided philanthropist at the last session of the Legislature secured the passage of an act requiring the Court, in passing sentence, to assume that every thief who is arraigned at the bar will earn the commutation for good conduct in State prison. This preposterous law will save you six months' Imprisonment. I would like to sentence you to State prison for the full term—five years—but this law prevents me. I therefore sentence you to State prison for four years and six months—all that I can give you."

A WICKED LITTLE COMMA.

It Caused the Court of Appeals to Decide Against Superintendent Murray.

It was a comma which caused the Court of Appeals to deny Superintendent Murray's application for a mandamus directing the Treasarer of the Police Board to deduct $2 a month from the pay of policemen for the benefit of the force" in the following clause from the set tax-ing the force for the benefit of the relief fund was the one that did the business:

The police relief fund shall consist of a sum of money equal to two dollars per month for each member of the police force of said department, and also for each member or employee of said department other than the police force, who shall desire to avail himself of the privileges and provisions of this set, &c.

leses and provisions of this act, &c.

The existence of this comma makes the payment of the $2 optional with policemen as well as other members of the department, as the Corporation Connect argued.

The result of the Court of Appeals' decision will be to distribute about $75,500 collected under the set among the contributors, who will receive, as the act went in force a year ago, $24 each. This fund was for the benefit of the widows and orphans of policemen who died in the discharge of their duty, and the family of Policeman North, who was killed by a negro in lower Brondway, will be among those who will suffer by the discontinuance of the $2 collection. The suit which resulted in abrogating the act was brought by some policemen who kicked at having to contribute.

HAD TO BEGIN AGAIN.

Something Lacking in Mr. Colville's Suit Against Bartley Campbell.

The suit of Samuel Colville against Bartley Campbell to compel him to vacate the Fourteenth Street Theatre for non-payment of rent, came up in the Eighth District Judicial Court yesterday. Judge McCarthy, who presided in Judge Gedney's absence, decided that Receiver Ernest Harvier should represent Mr.

Receiver Ernest Harvier should represent Mr. Campbell. Mr. Colville was put upon the stand, and he said he had asked Mr. Campbell for the rent for May.

"How much did you ask him for?" asked ex-Judgo Dittenhoefer.

"I didn't specify the amount."

"Then we shall have to withdraw this case for the present," said Mr. Dittenhoefer.

Mr. Harvier and his counsel left the room. After a hurried consultation Mr. Colville's agent, James T. McGuire, hastened out of court and up the street after Mr. Harvier. He asked Mr. Harvier for $1,000, the rent for June. Mr. Harvier declined to pay it, and Mr. MoGuire hurried back. On the strength of this demand a new suit will be brought.

A truck, driven by a stalwart, red-faced Irishman, crashed into one of the Broadway Pullman cars going in the same direction in front of Grace Church yesterday morning. The shock knocked George W. Cook of 111 West Twelfth street off the front platform, and or ill West Twelfth street off the front platform, and pinned his right leg between the fore wheel of the truck and the front dashboard. Its had to support himself by his hands while a number of his fellow passengers tugged at the unfortunate leg in their attempts to free him from his awkward position. A large crowd gathered, and there was soon many cars in line. After some very delicate maneuvring the truck driver backed his wheel, and Mr. Cook awang back on to the platform. The conductor learned that the truck's number was 1,880, Mr. Cook sustained painful bruises, but nothing more serious.

The Samuel Wood Estate.

The executors of the estate of Samuel Wood The executors of the estate of Samuel Wood were required yeaterday, by order of Surrogate Rollins, to file an accounting of their trust. The letters testamentary were issued seven years ago, and Mr. William Wood, who has a $15.000 interest in the estate, desires to know what the executors have been doing. The greater part of the property was devised to found a college of music.

William McLachlan, a Scotch fron worker, of William mcLachian, a Scotch from worker, of 116 West Twentieth street, got drunk on Tuesday and boarded an up-town bobtail car in Tenth avenue. With-cut saying a word he walked up to Policeman Stoele of the West 100th street station, who was riding home, and struck him in the face. The policeman arrested him, and Justice Gorman held him for trial yesterday.
